Announcing the Re-Launch of www.ccthedots.com

The Tea Party –

Completely Cognitively Correct®

Do you remember the hours you had as a child pretending to have tea parties with all your stuffies and dolls, trucks and anything that could sit upright? You gave everybody names and favorite things to play with, you served pretend tea (water) and gave out pretend food (plastic). It was the best time in the world.

What you probably were unaware of, was that this activity was and still is the most cognitively correct® activity you or your child can play. It includes every function of development. The best part is, when parents join their children for tea, children's emotional intelligence is stimulated as you spend quality time with them in one activity that employs virtually all of their capabilities.

The newest thing in Parent/Child Communication and Interactive workshop; the Hands-off Adults!-Tea Party. At a Hands-off Adults!-Tea Party, you will be receiving instructions about how to observe and enhance children's abilities through interactive relationship and play. The parent can connect, oversee and be involved in every diversified function of children's development and learning abilities, with the personal directions from the Preschooler's Guru™.

The Preschooler's Guru™ travels to your group, organization and/or home to conduct this very fresh approach to a workshop. The newest way to learn, reconnect and ultimately help your children become self assured adults, Book a Hands-off Adults! -- Tea Party today and say to your child; just because I love and honor you lets have a special day. You and your child could make all the preparations together.

You will feel so good about the workshop, we guarantee it. There is more information about this at www.ccthedots.com under childing/preschooling.

New definitions of some old Terms

Abilities/Aptitudes:

A built in response or design system for beneficial behavior / Leaning toward an impulse or compulsion to do something based on an ability or aptitude.

Imagination:

The keeper of all possibilities. A temple of innovation that can only be utilized by humans. The reliable, loyal and dedicated defender of all hopes, dreams and ideas. The zone of unlimited feelings and thoughts that are naturally protected from all trespassers.

Potential:

The ability of all parts of nature to be what their basic blueprint deems them to be. The design to grow, react and create according to the natural inclinations and instincts.

Cognitively Correct®:

A System of acquiring knowledge that specifically relates to a time and stage in life where E.Q. and I.Q. are virtually identical functions therefore requiring a language for teaching and guiding that logically fits, matches, and parallels both functions of intelligence.

Highlighted School – Rutherford, NJ

The Children's Studio

135 Ann Street
 East Rutherford, NJ 07073
 Tel: 201-935-5269
 Director: Colleen

In a recent conversation I had with Colleen, when asked how things are going she replied, "I notice a change in the teachers now they will stop and think about what to say to the child instead of the immediate 'no' I also asked if she saw a change in the children to which she replied, "Come to think about it yes I have, the tantrums are becoming shorter and fewer."

We believe that Colleen's staff who participated in our Naptime Special Seminar has done admirably with the new knowledge of potential and possibilities. The more the staff uses the cognitively correct® techniques the more it will become completely natural for them to always employ the knowledge of potential and possibilities when addressing a child.

Rutherford Cooperative Nursery

Director – Jeanmarie

Since the Coop "employs" parents in the daily educating of the children they invited the Preschooler's Guru™ to a regular group seminar.

Many parents (mothers) came to hear about the most important job a parent has; keeping the child safe, emotionally and physically. What was new to each and every parent was that they themselves are the only people who can affect the child's emotional intelligence. Cognitively correct® was openly received.

Quantum Mechanics and the Preschooler

By Carla A. Woolf

Quantum mechanics has now proven that consciousness exists on a cellular level in our physical bodies. If we are going to teach children to be "responsible," we must also be willing to continue growing and acquire positive and worthy "responses to our own abilities" that will set the example about being "response-able" - or - responsible.

Quantum mechanics demonstrates that there are unlimited waves of possibilities to choose from and that our consciousness exists on a cellular level giving us an opportunity to make that put us in control of our own destinies. Based on the evidence that preschool children should learn by discovering and exploring the basic patterns of our environment and that all possibilities are correct, early education curriculums have been designed to support this premise. If quantum mechanics demonstrates and proves that we can choose from an unlimited wave of possibilities, it looks to me as though higher consciousness would be best secured in the cellular structure during the preschool stage where learning is based on all possibilities, all possibilities are correct and all possibilities represent one united foundation of all learning capabilities.

We use language for just about everything, it influences what we feel, think and do. We are designed to learn through a language that represents the Knowledge of Potential and Possibilities, benefits, advantages, trust, confidence and competence. All the new secrets and revelations about the possibilities of higher consciousness and the constructive principles of universal energy can only be so effective when applied to the broken souls of a generation already raised in a language representing the knowledge of guilt, consequences and impossibilities.

It is unfortunate that early education caretakers and teachers have been underpaid and undervalued and even considered as less credible professionals than other sought-after livelihoods. But all that is going to change. Preschool teachers are the facilitators of tomorrow's world, they have the power and virtuosity to bring our future forward through teaching our young children of today.

"Connecting the Dots" is about understanding and accepting that all living creatures behave according to their best capabilities when they learn the purpose and benefits of knowledge. Every parent, teacher, caretaker and early childhood professional who understands and supports Cognitively Correct® development is the organization and association of true positive development. Every person in the world makes up a part of the interconnected, diversified links of human endeavor and creativity. ## The Preschooler's Guru™ Q&A: Examples

Cognitively Correct®

Even though we'll be in Grandma's house, you still have to ask permission to touch things, is that understood?

Our candy day is on Friday, today is Tuesday, we'll be back on Friday to buy a few things for the weekend and we'll buy your choice of candy then.

If it helps you to remember to use your napkin to wipe your hands, please hold it in one hand while you use the other to hold your fork (z) Please use your napkin. Please be gentle. (z) Please treat others with the kindness that you'd like from them.

Please decide whether you want to stay in the shopping cart or get out and help me push, it's one or the other.

If you want to scream and yell while you play then please play outside. Inside we use quiet voices.

Cognitively Incorrect

You know Grandma doesn't like it when you touch everything, so when we go inside you better just sit still.

We're not buying any candy today. Don't ask me again.

Don't wipe your hands on your clothes, show some appreciation, I work hard to buy you nice things, you're getting stains all over, it'll be ruined.

Be nice. (z) That wasn't a nice thing to do.

You can't keep getting in and out of the shopping cart.

Don't scream!
